

How does Gem's service work?

When you order in greater amounts (15 or more) for meetings and parties, we offer you discounted prices. In our restaurant, you will find that the Chicken Tikka Masala (served with basmati rice) is priced at $11.95. When you cater, your guests can enjoy two additional items– the vegetable pakoras and garlic naan– for just $9.95/person! From there, you can add additional menu items for roughly two dollars per person. Badly want to substitute a favorite dish for an option on this menu? We can work something out.

How much will you charge me for delivery and handling?

In the Springfield area, we will assess zero charges for delivery and handling! You may find that some other restaurants try to rack up profits with unnecessary fees. We want to make sure that you get a great deal. We will also provide disposable chafing dishes, racks, and fuel, as well as plasticware and plates at prices that don't greatly exceed what we paid for them.

Menu Options

Vegetable Pakoras + chutneys (crunchy fried potato and veggie fritters)	$9.95 per person

Garlic Naan (Indian white bread topped with fresh minced garlic & special mixture of herbs and spices, baked in our tandoori oven)

+ Non-vegetarian appetizer (Combination of chicken tikka, boti kebabs, and chicken pakoras)	$13.95 per person
+ Dessert (choice of gulab jamun, mango pudding, rice pudding)	$15.95 per person
+ Additional entrée of your choice (select from menu)	$17.95 per person

Competitive with other restaurants.

If you or your organization normally caters "party subs" for your gatherings, you will find that $7 only gets one guest around 8 inches of sandwich! Why not go for something a little more exciting?

Go halves on it!

Many of our customers find that they can do a split payment for the meal. That is, the organization (such as a church, school, or business) pays for half of the bill, and then each person that eats brings $5 or so. This could be a smart way to enjoy quality gourmet Indian cuisine.
